About Rockhampton Museum of Art

Rockhampton Museum of Art (RMOA), part of Rockhampton Regional Council, is a leading art institution for the Central Queensland region and the state. Its new building, featuring several gallery spaces as well as program rooms, a store and a café, opened to the public in February 2022.

RMOA staff apply their skill and expertise to develop and deliver high-quality exhibitions and supporting programs for a wide audience including tourists, schools, families, people of diverse cultural backgrounds, and people with disabilities.

Artist Opportunities

Throughout its activities, RMOA is committed to investing in regional artists across the Rockhampton and greater Central Queensland region. The Museum provides a range of opportunities to local artists, including opportunities as workshop or program facilitators, artists-in-residence, school holiday programs, children's activities designer, and artisans in the RMOA Store. Furthermore, local artists and creative practitioners are welcome to submit digital portfolios for ongoing consideration for opportunities as they arise. Artists can also submit an Exhibition Proposal Submission Form to RMOA for consideration for the exhibition program. Proposals are reviewed and assessed by the Rockhampton Museum of Art Director.

About the Building

RMOA delivers an ongoing exhibition program across several different gallery spaces within the new building. For exhibition proposals, it has one large exhibition space on the Ground Floor, one medium-sized space and a small Vitrine Gallery on Level 2; and a window-filled Atrium Gallery viewable from all levels. The Ground Floor's Gallery 1 is 16 metres wide and 34 metres long, with a ceiling over eight metres high, while the Level 2 space ceiling is around four metres high and 16 x 16 metres. Ceilings have track lighting and hanging capabilities. The floor is polished concrete and contains the building's museum-grade air conditioning system via floor grills. The gallery spaces have power and data positioned throughout. RMOA can provide audio-visual equipment, exhibition plinths and other display furniture, and build customised modular walls as required.

Potential exhibitors are encouraged to familiarise themselves with RMOA's exhibition spaces before submitting an Exhibition Proposal Submission Form, to know which space would best suit their brief.

- Exhibition fee, subject to the size of the exhibition space.

Exhibition Planning Process

- RMOA is committed to being a safe space for all people. The display of artworks that may cause potential mental, physical or cultural harm to visitors or staff must be negotiated early with RMOA curatorial staff to minimise or eliminate risk.
- All decisions regarding the display of work must be made in consultation with the Curator. The artist/s should provide a comprehensive list of artworks and floorplans/layouts for review. The Curator retains the right to make final decisions on presentation and will discuss any changes with the artist/s prior to installation. Exhibition equipment and design components are subject to availability and budget considerations.
- The number of works to be displayed will be at the discretion of the Curator. RMOA reserves the right not to display works considered unsuitable for any reason or if the quality or quantity of work submitted is inappropriate for the exhibition space. The exhibitor will be consulted during the installation of any such instance.
- Installation of all exhibitions occurs with strict adherence to Rockhampton Regional Council safety standards. A risk assessment process occurs prior to the installation of artwork and exhibitors must notify RMOA about any potential health and safety issues connected to the exhibition, especially if special installation equipment is required.
